SILHOUETTE SILHOUETTE

The 1972 Silhouette is reaching toward the tangible expression of Country Day Life.

To freeze the reflections caught momentarily on the rapids of change—that their remembrance may be preserved as different waves of our high school days.

To capture the awakening of the untrained mind, body, and soul in the individual expressions of each one as he, through his activities, represents a part of Asheville Country Day School.

Por su cariño y su entendimiento, los cuales nos han dado una tranquilidad del espíritu. nos ha enseñado no sólo el idioma sino también el modo de vivir español. Por amor de ella, nuestras vidas han conocido dignidad, belleza, dulzura y gracia. Nosotros, los estudiantes, nos enorgullecemos de dedicar el silhouette de 1971-1972 a la señora Griffin.

Through her love and understanding, which have given us a peace of mind, she has taught us not only the language but also the Spanish way of life. Because of her, our lives have known a dignity, beauty, gentleness, and grace. We, the students, are proud to dedicate the Silhouette of 1971-1972 to Mrs. Jeanne Griffin.

that we so badly need today;
will we ever make it to tomorrow?

Barbara Woodard

We, the Senior Class of 1972, do hereby bequeath our worldly possesions:

Jim Baker: To Mr. Stewart I bequeath my black, hairy chops. To Gene Hamilton I leave the shooting touch of The Machine. To Gene Carr I leave the legacy of Super Scripto. To Miss Holmes and her wonder kitchen I leave the famous grease residing upon my scalp. And to the White Fairy I leave the soulful voice and sexy, gyrating hips of Elvis.

Rexann Ballard: I will my athletic ability to Brit Smith and George Chumbley. To Brit, I leave a straight, clean-shaven pair of legs and a self-addressed envelope. I leave my lunches to Copper and the Cafeteria. I leave a Coke bottle to Mildred, and my three inches to Trent.

Bill Carstensen: To my successor on the basketball team, I leave my front row seat. To Kitty Grimsley I leave all my possessions tax free! To Don I leave my position on the baseball team and a season pass to all the Pirates games of 1977 so he can watch me make a fool of myself in public all 162 times.

Charlotte Chakales: To Mr. Abell I leave undepressed. To the Junior Class I leave all the Senior's privileges. To Hunt Mallet I leave both my arms and hands in case you need them and your big middle toe. To Mike Gilman I leave "Mama." To Trent Van Blaricom I leave my sense of humor in hopes that he will use it. To Tom Van Blaricom I leave all my china and all my love.

Jack Crowe: I leave my black Indian hat to Janet Howland; to the M.P.L.P., strength to fight off Joe Cool and his grits in his Econ world, to Susan Howland, seven Boon's Farm bottles in my car. And last but not forgetting to Carol, I leave a giant box of C. J. Kleenex, purple clothes for purple people eaters, and my insanity from senior weekend.

Mark Dickerson: I leave the ability to brighten up the day with my jokes to Trent. To Bert S. I leave my ability to get to school in less than 30 minutes, and my clean driving record. To Gene I leave my free study halls. I will my pitching ability to Andy C., and my knowledge of Spanish to his class. To Miss McCabe I leave five copies of MOBY DICK. To Wallace I leave a rubber snake. To the teachers of A. C. D. S. I leave my cheerfulness, in that some of them may be more cheerful.

Ray Dunton: To Jack Crowe I leave an axe. College soccer players are bigger than high school players, and that hatchet might not work. To Dottie Anne I leave the stuff that got her that nick name. To Joe Cool I leave an Official Secret Map showing where it's at. He can't seem to find out.

Peter Gillis: I P. G. leave this school!

Suzie Griffin: To George Psoinos I leave all of my extra pens and pencils; to Elaine Littlejohn I leave my position as the French Club Secretary-Treasurer; and to the girl who has the skill I had, I leave my position as permanent bench-warmer on the basketball team.

Ed Highsmith: To Ty Baker I leave a worn and ragged Iron-em-out cheer. I leave my soccer ability to be divided equally between Bert and Trent. To Pam Dave I leave $100. I leave Mrs. Reed to Mark Vanderwart. The Barking Spiders I leave to Jim Baker. To Mr. Stewart I leave Hunt Mallet and to the junior class I leave Mark Dickerson.

Bill Honeycutt: I leave my flashing red flashlight to Barbara Woodard, Brenda Madden and Charlotte Chakales. I leave my ability in 60-foot jump shots to Jim Adams. To Ed Highsmith I leave a nose coverette to muffle his snores. To Gibson Packer and Jim Baker, I leave a left-handed strike. To the juniors, our lounge.

Susan Howland: To George Psoinos I bequeath my sister. To Mitchell Lerner I leave a red flashlight! To Mrs. Lanier I leave my 32 lost notecards. To Brit Smith I bequeath my mind which doesn't even come near the wonders of his (?). To Jackson Crowe I leave my mother! To Hunt Mallet I bequeath my wire brush. To Bill Brosman I return his stilts. Thank you!

Kirk Johnson: I, Kirk Johnson, do leave to Mike a tut-the-boot zapp-proof suit. To George, a box of worms. To Davey, a bone to be wild. To Elaine, a bone to pick. To Crowe, wild nights in Amsterdam. To Barbara, twos of years. To Katherine, strange brew. I leave Floyd Forbes to anyone who needs to get things together.

Bob Kagan: I will my voice and radio talents to Mr. Abell in hopes that he will use them well. I will my hair to the kitchen staff for lunch cleanup. I will my baseball skills to the baseball team to be divided up equally among its members. And I will a breakfast consisting of one strip of bacon, one slice of ham and a hog jowl to Andy Carstensen.

Anna Keever: To Mrs. Moore I leave my love for math. To Mr. Roland I leave all my right answers! I leave a box of rubber bands to poor Mrs. Robinson. To Mrs. Coleman I leave one point for my test. Finally, to Barbara, Lee, and the rest of the senior girls, I leave a television so that they may watch "All My Children!"

Mitchell Lerner: I bequeath all of my flavored and regular yogurt to Mrs. Lanier at 5 after 3:00, the time of the beginning of the Renaissance period. And (with much hesitation), I leave my physical attributes of muscle to the "P. E. Three."

Margaret Loew: To Trent and Tommy I leave all future dances with the hopes you don't get any help from a certain friend. To Chuck P. I leave my V.W. to go with his Datsun to keep it company. To Elaine I leave my ability to get out of school all the time. To Becky I leave long talks and lots of fun. To Kitty I leave Rick and his S.S. Chevelle. I leave to Ann Hipps a lot of appreciation for everything you've done for me. To Cornelia I leave all the fun I've had knowing you and flirting chick, mountain climbing, rolling eyes. To Mrs. Coleman, all my love for a fantastic person thats helped me a lot this year. To Mrs. Robinson, my white coat. To Mr. Herbert I leave all my craziness.

Lee Macatee: To Cornelia Franz I leave my schedule. To M.P. I leave all the chickens and horses. To Tom I leave my ticklishness. To Trent I leave the ability of stealthy tapping shoulders. I leave the drink machine to all the people who have "shared" my Pepsis. To Barbara and Anna I leave our favorite show. To Mrs. Coleman I leave my great achievement with the cat. Finally, I leave to Mrs. Griffin my ability to take four years of Spanish in one.

Brenda Madden: To Tom V.B. and Peter C. I leave a set of broken china; to Don Scarbourough, my voice; to Hunt, a fireman's hat; to Jo Lynn my formal. To Kitty Grimsley I leave all my make-up. I leave to Señora Griffin my love for her warm friendship. To Mr. Herbert and Mrs. Moore one rewarding and unforgettable senior weekend. To Mr. Abell I leave my jokes and to everyone else, I leave the happiness I acquired at Country Day.

Davey Mallet: I, David S. Mallet, do hereby bequeath my wordly possessions to the following persons: Rexann Ballard- my apples from my lunch for her horse; Bill Brosman- my free pass to Brosman Hotel; Tom and Trent V.B.- the gas guage from my lawn mower for their jeep; Andy Brown and Bert Smith- five pounds of tea; and Mike Gilman- my M.P.L.P. membership card.

Anne Moser: To Kim Adams I leave one tape that says "hi Adams" on it 100 times. To the upcoming President, all my ulcers and sleepless nights. To Agnes, my great French ability. To Mr. Herbert, one whale of a stick of dynamite. To Mrs. Robinson, all "our secrets" and two quarters for cokes. To Miss McCabe, my share of worries about the annual. To Becky, my ability to collapse after the first quarter of every game. To my fellow students, faculty, and administration, I thank you for making this such a great year! And finally I leave to Mrs. Griffin, with all my love and appreciation, the windows closed.

Scott Olofson: I will my dedication and great atheletic abilities to Gene Hamilton. To Dickerson I leave my milk and cookies. To George I leave my cure for nose bleeds, and last I leave my official German Club Franchise to the Junior Clubs.

Gibson Packer: To Gene Hamilton, I leave my truck; to Andy Carstensen I leave my nick-names; to Mr. Stewart and Mrs. Robinson I leave my accumulation of tardy slips. I will a new hat to Wallace Dawkins and a Red Carpet Room menu to Mrs. Holmes. And finally to Janet Howland, I leave my ability to make up my mind.

Carol Prentice: I leave: my diminishing Yankee accent to the South half; my wardrobe to fellow purple-people-eaters; my zoem, schwartz and figlianne's to red-eyed Rolanders; a new spaceship-moon pies included! - to the senior lounge; plus my uniform, blouse, green jacket and nail polish remover for future use to _____(anyone's guess).

George Psoinos: To Peter Chakales I leave the rear end of my car and a key to my house. To Trent V.B. I leave my legs so he can be a basketball giant. To Gene Hamilton I leave my shoes so he can float to Europe next time. To Mr. Stewart, my history books with pleasure. To the lower school I leave my vitamins to grow with. To all the juniors I leave a prayer on reserve in heaven. To Mrs. Moore I leave a box of Kleenex. To Wallace I leave one white sock and a dirty school to clean. To Charlotte I leave a paint brush.

Marsha Sawyer: I, Marsha Sawyer, being of sound mind and body, wish to leave to Elaine, the right half of locker #28 in hopes that she will forever guard and treasure the fine reputation and exquisite beauty of the locker. To Chris Ramsey and Marshall Packer, one year full of good, hard slaps on the back. To James Ross, my position as the "pushiest person." I leave my fairy wings to Trent, because he is the only one that realizes the true value of red fairy wings. To Mr. Roland, one bag of peppermints and my fine mathematical ability. And finally to the juniors I leave more space to write their senior wills.

Katherine Smart: I, Katherine Smart, do hereby bequeath my dog's surprises to Trent V.B.; my incessant worries to Wutchel; my occasional calmness to Miss McCabe that she will make use of it while advising a future editor; my lack of future shock with Mr. Herbert: and all my smiles and happiness with Kirk, forever.

Dot Wakefield: I, Dottie Anne, bequeath Tommy and Mike my accumulated sagacity to be divided equally between them. To Andy I leave my tricycle. To Cornelia I leave my logic and common sense. To Mrs. Hancock I leave peace and quiet. I bid adieu to Zeke and hope that the upcoming seniors treat him with honor. Finally after twelve years I leave my sibling.

Steve Wiggins: To all members of RoLand I will my shades in the hope that they will be shared equally. To some fortunate person I will the job of photography and the many late nights spent in the darkroom. To Jimmy Adams I leave my success as a gun in basketball.

Barbara Woodard: I leave: the Varsity Cheerleaders, my big mouth to carry out the tradition of "What's Your Favorite School?" -to the upcoming Homecoming Queen, one tearful and exciting evening-to Mr. Herbert, one whole of a pack of cigarettes and a lot of happiness. -to Lee Macatee, a lot of pencils and pens-to Matt, one recording of "Barbara Anne" (our verse) -to Kirk, the memories of leading the trucking parade through the gym. -to Elaine and Cornelia, blind dates for the next dance.-to Mrs. Coleman, a lot of free time away from school, -to Brit, 999 Swiss Navy Haults, -to Anne, many rides on the parkway to sort out our problems and finally from the student body and the faculty I carry the many memories of my years at Country Day.

Mary Wutschel: To Agnes I leave the left side of my fabulous locker #28 And to Matt Harris I leave one half of a giant snowflake. Sadly I leave to Cindy Champion my precious Bobby Herbert watch. To PeterChakales I leave my unaccident prone 64'
